

American Officers Urge Congress to Aid U. S. Shipping

Petition Sent to President Harding, Shipping Board, Senators and Representatives Asking Assistance

Letters asking government assistance for the American merchant marine have been sent to President Harding, the Shipping Board, Senators and Representatives by seagoing masters, mates, officers and members of the American Steamship Licensed Officers' Association, Pier 50, North River. These urge immediate action on constructive policies to protect shipping in the overseas trade.

The messages declare that "the shipping business, as of course, all know, has been at a standstill for a very long period, and especially so with reference to the ships under the American flag, which has caused thousands of good, competent men to be out of employment. During the war we all rendered faithful service in various capacities so that the ships could be properly manned and kept in operation. We have hoped that the time had surely arrived when we would see our great fleet back on the sea once more, which would give our families and ourselves our daily bread. But with our American ships tied up as now, there is no employment for American officers."

The appeal of the officers' association has brought many sympathetic responses, it was said yesterday, promising active support for the shipping policies of the Administration, especially from the Senators and Representatives of the seaboard states. A leading Democratic Senator wrote:

"I want you to know that I am in hearty sympathy with the efforts of your organization, and that the employment situation is not the least of the reasons why I shall use every effort to urge the adoption of some definite and permanent national shipping policy.

The American Steamship Licensed Officers' Association has about 1,300 members, consisting of masters and mates on American steamships in overseas and coastwise services. Captain Richard Neville, master of the Southern Pacific liner El Isle, is president; Captain George Price, secretary-treasurer, is of the New York and Porto Rico fleet; Captain Luther B. Dow, of Brooklyn, is business manager.

Says Newport News Plant Is Promised Leviathan

Dallinger to Carry Fight for Work at Boston Navy Yard to Floor of House

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The contract for the reconstruction of the Leviathan has been promised the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, according to Representative Dallinger, Republican, Massachusetts, who has been attempting to have the work done at the Boston Navy Yard.

Mr. Dallinger, who had been in conference with officials of the Shipping Board, said in a statement today that the Newport News Corporation had submitted the lowest bid for the refitting of the liner and had been given assurance that it would be awarded the contract.

Mr. Dallinger announced he would carry to the floor of the House his fight to have the work done at a navy yard. The dock at Boston, he contended, was the only one large enough on the Atlantic seaboard to accommodate the ship.

An effort to have an amendment attached to the independent offices appropriation bill, reported today, giving navy yards authority to bid in competition with private concerns for the refitting of ships, was of no avail, Mr. Dallinger said. He asserted, however, that a determined fight would be made to attach such a provision to the bill before it reaches the President.

At least $1,000,000 could be saved by having the work on the Leviathan done at Boston, according to Mr. Dallinger.
